To the Class of 2009:

This event is open not only to your ladies, but to any family members or friends you might like to have with you to share the evening. You and your lady are the guests of the Council of Deliberation. Any others you might like to join you will be expected to pay for their meal(s).

If you have a large group coming with you, let me know so I can try to reserve a table for you.

I look forward to being with you on October 17th !

Jim
